MCKINLEY AND KAMEHAMEHA TO CLASH SATURDAY

Contest Will Be Announced Play By Play Tomorrow Morning From Office

Tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 on the Kamehameha field in Kalihi the first game of the 1917 interscholastic football championship will be played between the Kamehameha school and the McKinley high school. Primed by three weeks of hard practice, the two teams will meet each other with the advantage of weight belonging to Kamehameha and the advantage of speed to McKinley.

Although their team this year is even lighter than usual Kamehameha still boasts of several heavy men, chief of them being the two Clark brothers. McKinley has an exceptionally light and inexperienced team, has suffered several reverses of late, but is preparing to fight a correspondingly hard battle.

Kamehameha lost to Company D, second infantry, by the score of 12 to 0 day before yesterday, but then they learned where the weak spots of their team are. Coleman, who replaced Crabbe at quarter, showed up exceptionally well, while Richmond, who replaced Fuller at end, gave much promise. Husey will be the mainstay on the other end tomorrow. Just what lineup will be used, however, is undecided.

McKinley Ready.

The McKinley team seems all on edge for the game tomorrow. The line and back have been working hard, with very little encouragement from the showing already made against the College of Hawaii, but a vast improvement in speed and team-work. Since Whitcomb took charge of the squad three weeks ago there has been fully 100 per cent improvement in the way the boys handle the ball.

Walter Akana, who used to drone out signals, is as snappy as Thompson or Peter Chang now. Chang, though a young player and light, is fast at getting the ball to the backs and lets no gross flourish about his feet. He looks like the logical successor of Captain Thompson on next year's squad.

Thompson At Quarter.

Thompson needs no introduction as a quarter. His work last year was of the highest order. He is good at the sending end of forward passes which balances his ability as quarter and makes him one of Whitcomb's valuable players.

The fullback position is still in doubt. It is almost impossible to say just who will be found there Saturday, but Chilton Jones, John Nua and a few others have had their fling at it, and look about equally good. For the other backs, Tsukiyama at left half is the one best bet of the Makikiites. Tokioka, Helle and Ching are possibilities for right half, but again the question arises as to who will start the Kam game there.

In the line Murray Heminger looks good at center, with Chang on one side and Oliveria on the other. They make a stone wall defense when the ball is in Murray's hands. It is the one firm thing about the McKinley line, so far as assuredness of position counts. Dick Whitcomb and goodness only knows who will be in the remainder of the line positions, and they will not tell.

At one end Tokioka, a new man, is to be seen, while the other end is well taken care of by Walter Akana, who is not running the team at quarter. But here as in the backfield there are others, any of whom may be found in place of the two men mentioned when the referee's whistle blows.

Dunn, Jacobson, McTaggart, Sato, Oehring and Davis are all doing well at the line positions, and Whitcomb is shifting them about still to find out their greatest effectiveness. Some of the men who will be seen in suits are William Chang, Chong Ching, Chow Chun, Edward Kam, Kaneichi Kodani, Kuni, Joe Leong and David Yap.

The officials will be chosen from the following whom the league selected at its first meeting: Lieutenant Britton, Zimmerman and McAndrews.

Akane Injured. In a practice scrimmage the team got another blow yesterday afternoon when Akane, who was running the team, had his ankle badly wrenched. He may be forced to keep a place on the sidelines with Tsukiyama and Wickander. The game in which Akane was hurt was with the Honolulu Military Academy eleven. The playing was featured by the running of Thompson and the consistent work of the Searle brothers for the academy.

It is possible that Darnell's team may enter the second series of the interscholastic league. They have the same plugging backfield that they have had for the past two years, and the smaller Searle looks good at quarter with the added weight he has put on during the summer.

CLUBS GET $150 EACH FROM REGATTA MANAGERS

The Hawaiian Rowing association met in the offices of the Star-Bulletin last night and settled the affairs of the last regatta celebration in the harbor. Each club was given $150, and the winners of the races were awarded the cups and medals.

To the naval authorities, the rowing association wants to express its appreciation for their cooperation on

LIONEL BRASH MAY NOT PLAY ON SATURDAY

Captain and Star of College of Hawaii Football Team Injured in Practice

Captains of both the Punahou academy and the College of Hawaii football teams may not appear in the first game of the interscholastic series to be played on Alexander field on Saturday afternoon. While Captain "Dud" Pratt of Punahou busted open an old wound on his hand in scrimmages, Lionel Brash of the college eleven has been generally downed up in the hard scrimmage work through which his team has been going.

Without Brash, the College of Hawaii team is going to have a hard time winning from Punahou in spite of the fact that many of the men on their team are veterans of Punahou football. Coach Midkiff's team appears for the first time this year as the likeliest contenders for the interscholastic honors and while the result of the game tomorrow does not count in the race for the championship, the team will be closely watched for its work.

The College of Hawaii is ready to meet Punahou at 3:30 o'clock. Were it not that a few unlooked for accidents have put a new complexion on things the college team would be in better shape for the opening of the season than at any time in the history of any of the college teams, for it was not until this year that a sufficient number of candidates have turned out to provide for two teams. However, the injuries received by Brash and Bromley in scrimmages, will, it is feared, deprive the backfield of their aid, almost certainly that of Brash. Cowan's absence also does not brighten the prospects for Saturday's game.

The remainder of the team is composed of freshmen, but in most all cases, raw, untried material. Hayelden, Kong, Ai, Wong and Mariuchi have had valuable experience, and form the nucleus of a line, and although the rest of the men have been doing splendid work at practice, their lack of experience is apt to count against them. Bryan, Kanahale, Iwanaga, King and Char have been in many dashing combinations during the practice scrimmages.

New York Giants Should Win Big Series Through Hard Hitting And Aggressiveness

National Leaguers Play Better Ball When Hard Pushed; Team Full of Pep

(This is the final article of the series by Mike Jay on the respective merits of the Chicago White Sox and New York Giants, championship contenders, so far as batting and base-running is concerned. The figures employed in this article are those computed up to the middle of September when both teams had not yet won the right to play in the world's series which starts tomorrow and were still going in midseason form. —Sports Ed.)

By MIKE JAY

With the world's series of 1918, less than 24 hours away, and our head packed to the limit with the stuff that Ty Cobb, Irvin S. Cobb, Emmeline Pankhurst, Otto Croak and Rabid Rudolph have written on this series, we have dashed off the poem in an idle moment (admitting that newspapermen have such a thing) which we believe hits the nail where friend husband didn't when he tried to put up the picture on the wall.

Some Night, Be

Tonight, the old Windy City on the lake is mirth and madness, joy and sorrow and all that old book that descriptive writers hand us at so much per word. Leaders of art and literature, for Chicago thinks of itself as a center of art, are swapping oblique theories on whether Cicotte or Russell will take the mound tomorrow. Little Rollo, the child marvel, who won a medal for reciting 15 pages of Biblical quotations off by heart is debating with his nurse whether Weaver or McMullin is better when it comes to pinch hitting. Gents who have never seen each other in their lives before meet in the music rooms (possibly) of the leading hotels and slap each other between the shoulder blades and discuss the merits of Ed Collins and John Collins. Biology has been passed up for baseball and higher mathematics gets a hearing by horning into the official statistics. The Leftbook and Ironworkers' social, literary and debating society has dropped the topic of Chicago's bad water supply for a discussion on the ulterior motives of the hit and run play. Bill Shakespeare has been benched in favor of Bill Rariden and instead of Fletcherizing their food the fans are giving the thirty-third degree mastication to the preside done served up by the newspaper chiefs in extras and final pink editions. For tomorrow the big series starts.

Batting and Running

We have already discussed the pitching and fielding of the two teams. The Giants have a shade in the pitching while the clubs are evenly matched in fielding. Now to batting and base-running.

In base-running the Chisox seems to have the edge. As a team they have stolen 185 bases to the Giants 134 and their sacrifice hits are 236 to the New Yorkers 132. In batting the Giants have the lead with a team average of .262 as against Comiskey's .257. The Gotham gang have collected 1194 hits while the Windy City boys were getting 1161.

The Outlook

Chicago has been playing a great game on the bases; the pale horse aggregation stealing everything in sight. The Giants, on the other hand,

THE SCRIBE'S CONFESSION

(Accompanied with blushes)
I'm a seventh son, of a seventh son,
Of a son-of-a-gun, am I.

My bean contains more baseball brains
Than many a manager guy.
I've a wonderful store of diamond lore—

I'm onto each hook and crook,
And the twists and quirks, of the inside works.

To me, is an open book,
I'm a wise old head, and my dope is read.

By millions of baseball fans
I've figures to burn and I call the turn.

Of the various schemes and plans,
My logic is sound and with words profound.

I tell you will win the trick,
I'm the great big IT and I freely admit

A winner I never pick,
To play the best ball when hard pushed.

They have a reserve force that Always bobs up when they need to win.

And the reason for it is as plain as Green on an Irishman's coat on March 17.

That reason is Muggsy McGraw.
According to Chicago scribes

"Pants" Rowland is a great manager;
but it looks to us as if he keeps it well concealed. We knew him as the manager some years ago of the worst team in the Northwestern league and the only sign of greatness about him in those days were his big feet and the handsomest collection of ivory in

Chicago Whitsox Must Depend on Steady Pitching and Reckless Running

Lee Fohl of the Cleveland Indians, Fielder Jones of the St. Louis Browns, and Jack Barry of the Boston Red Sox picked the Chicago White Sox while Pat Moran of the Philadelphia Nationals, George T. Stallings of the Boston Braves, Christy Mathewson of the Cincinnati Reds, Fred Mitchell of the Chicago Cubs and Hugh Bezdek of the Pittsburgh Pirates selected the Giants. Hugh Jennings of the Detroit Tigers, Wilbert Robinson of the Brooklyn Dodgers and Miller Huggins of the St. Louis Cardinals were undecided in the matter.

We haven't seen an opinion expressed by either John J. McGraw of the Giants or Clarence Rowland of the Chicago White Sox; so give you here a statement which will come from both men. Fill it in to suit yourself. Try It Yourself.

Manager — of the — world's series contenders when interviewed today in regard to the chances of his team coping the dough was becomingly modest and refused to express any opinion regarding the coming battle other than to say that he feels certain that the — will make the other team eat the dust.

"These pre-series predictions make me weary," said Pilot — in a disgusted tone. "Baseball is so notoriously uncertain that only a fool would venture to make predictions. Certainly, I'm not going to put any of that prophetic stuff. All I've got to say is, just to advise the fans to wait until the series is over and then when the — romp home with the championship it will be time enough to cheer. I'm not making any predictions, understand me, but I will say that only a miracle can beat the — out of the series dough and personally I don't believe miracles happen any more. It wouldn't be modest for me to tout my own horn and I'm not going to do it, but you'll have to admit that the — make the other outfit look cheap. Still I'm not going to make any predictions because I think that sort of thing is downright foolishness. Don't you?"

DAVID KAHANAMOKU IS APPOINTED BEACH PATROL

David Kahanamoku, brother of Duke, was chosen yesterday by the harbor board as captain of the life patrol to be established on Waikiki beach. He will commence his duties at once.

The new patrol captain is also a swimmer of note and his name met the unanimous approval of the board. He has been employed for some time by the Outrigger club for its patrol.

The rules as adopted by the board require that the patrolman shall be on duty eight hours each day including Sundays and holidays. It is the last named days that provide special need for the life guards as the crowds are always greatest then.

JUNIORS WIN GAME FROM FRESHMAN TEAM

(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence)
MILLS SCHOOL, Oct. 4.—The third game of baseball between the juniors and when the fifth inning came, it series was placed Wednesday afternoon at the Castle field and resulted in a score of 19 to 2 in favor of the upper classmen.

The game was started late at 4:30 and when the fifth inning came, it was dark and the umpire had to call the game off. The losers used three slabs in Zenmura, Alfred and Akahane, while Kan Leong pitched air tight ball for his winning team.

BIG REGATTA AND SWIMMING MEET PLANNED

Outrigger Club's Broad Scheme for Event Which Opens at Waikiki Next Month

What promises to be one of the largest and most typically Hawaiian sporting events of the year has been planned by the Outrigger Club for chosen days between November 4 and December 1 of this year. It will include a club swimming meet at Waikiki, a canoe and surf board regatta, and contests in surfing.

Five cups presented to the Outrigger Club at different times will be competed for. They are: One presented by J. D. Canfield to the best malihini surf board rider of the club; two presented by Frank Clark for the best surfers in big canoes and the best surfers in little canoes; one for the best junior paddle canoe crew presented by the club on July 4, 1911; one presented by Frank Speaight of London to the club on June 25, 1910, to be won three times in a race in canoes from the Moana to Brown's pier; and two presented by Frank Clark in 1910 for the best surf riders in the club.

The Clark cup for the best man surf rider of the club was won by S. T. Short in 1910 since when it has not been competed for. Miss Josephine Pratt, one of Hawaii's greatest surf riders, won the cup for women in the same year.

The Regatta

"This regatta is for the purpose of bringing out and developing our members so that they will become experts in the line of sports for which the club has been organized," says "Dad" Center, captain of the Outrigger Club. "The swimming meet is to develop material for the big meet in February."

To raise funds to carry out this regatta plan the club will give a dance on October 27 when the moon is full and another on December 1, when a chowder dinner will be given to wind up the celebration. The proceeds of the entertainment will be added to the $510 already raised to go toward the expenses of the meet.

"We have urged all members of the club to prepare for the coming meet and regatta, for we feel that the event will be a notable one. There is much material in the club and enthusiasm, also. To direct these along the lines proposed will undoubtedly do much for our typically Hawaiian sports," says Capt. Center.

The opening event of the long regatta will be a sailing race for Hawaiian canoes over a triangular course, on November 4. There will be a surf paddling contest for men (boards limited to nine feet); for boys (boards limited to eight feet); for ladies (boards limited to nine feet); and for girls under 16 (boards limited to eight feet). Gold, silver, and bronze medals will be awarded to the winners of these events.

There will be a canoe race for boys and for men for the Speaight cup, and surf board riding contest for men, for boys, for women, and for girls, for places on the Clark cups. The Canfield cup will be competed for in a malihini surf riding contest.

Medals will be offered for a malihini surf board riding contest and for a canoe surfing contest for men and boys for places on the Clark cups. The canoes are to carry six men.

The events of the swimming meet will be 50-yard, 100-yard, 220-yard, 440-yard, 200-yard breast stroke, 100-yard back stroke swims and a long swim from Castle's point to the diving stand, for the senior members of the club.

For the junior members of the club there will be 50-yard, 100-yard, 100-yard breast stroke, and 100-yard back stroke swims.

For the ladies there will be 50-yard, 100-yard, 220-yard, 100-yard breast stroke, and 50-yard back stroke swims.

For girls under 15 there will be 50-yard and 100-yard races.

For boys under 12 there will be 25-yard and 50-yard swims.

For women novices there will be a 50-yard race and for men novices 50 and 220-yard swims.

BANTAMS PLAY TODAY

Punahou academy's third team will meet another team of tiny football players, who call themselves the All-Students, this afternoon on the lower field at Punahou at 3:30 o'clock. The majority of the latter team are students of the St. Louis college, which does not sanction football as a school sport.

The following men played for the junior squad: Maker, c; Kan Leong, p; Booth, lb; Lancaster, lb; Suekoka, 3b; Given, ss; Okashi, lf; D. Maski, cf; Paul, rf.

STAR-BULLETIN WILL GIVE BIG GAME RESULTS

Meeting in First Game of 1917 Interscholastic Football Championship Series

Although the first game of the world's baseball championship series will be played at Chicago, beginning at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, Honolulu will get the results of the contest, play by play, tomorrow morning beginning at about 9:30 o'clock when they will be announced by the Star-Bulletin from in front of its office on Merchant street.

Every play will come over the wire to Honolulu all the way from Chicago to the Star-Bulletin just as soon as it is recorded on the White Sox field and will be announced from in front of the Star-Bulletin office. By gathering there fans can follow the contest with their ears if not with their eyes.

Owing to the difference in time between Chicago and Honolulu, the Star-Bulletin is able to give the fans of Honolulu the results of each inning early in the morning. They will first be announced and later published where they can be read again in the afternoon.

FOOTBALL IS TO BE PLAYED AT SCHOFIELD

(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence)
SCHOFIELD BARRACKS, Oct. 4. —"Kins" football again is coming into his own at Schofield and appears due for a prosperous season. The various regimental fields daily present an animated appearance after drill with candidates for position on the various eleven's going through formations. There are not less than four teams engaged in hard practice, namely the 1st Horse Artillery, 9th Motor Artillery, 4th Cavalry and 32nd Infantry. A fifth squad, the 1st Infantry, will be out for work as soon as that organization completes its range practice and returns to quarters.

It was also learned today that several crates containing football paraphernalia had been delivered at the Officers' Training Camp and that a team was to be organized of the students. Gen. Johnson, it is understood, has the matter in charge and whether or not the eleven will be representative of the training camp, or wear the colors of the national guard, has not been announced. It is also a secret as to when, where and how the candidates for this eleven find time for practice.

A good game is scheduled for next Saturday afternoon at the cavalry gridiron between Machine Gun Company, 32nd Infantry, and 4th Cavalry eleven. The rapid fire gunners will present the following lineup: Horn; Walker, rg; Elzer, lg; Gill, lb; Brown, rt; Finnegan, le; Lanosky, re; Fleischman lb; Tuzinski, rrb; Steger, lb. Substitutes: Walker, Webb and Franklin.

Eleven cases were diagnosed as infantile paralysis in Colton, St. Lawrence, N. Y. The schools are closed.
